NEW COMET IS VISIBLE.

Another Celestial Tramp Can Soon Be Seen In Sky.

Geneva, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The new comet recently discovered by Dr.
William R. Brooks, of Hobart College, and named by him the Brooks comet, has become so bright as to be seen with opera glasses or small telescope and will soon be visible to the naked eye.

The comet is now in constellation Cygnus, about three degrees north of Alpha, the top star in the northern cross, directly overhead, in the early evening. Motion is northwest.
Dr. Brooks says the comet is coming nearer and will continue to grow brighter for several weeks.

DEAD SEA

To Be Worked By An American Syndicate.

The irrepressible American Syndicate has captured the Dead Sea, and proposes to make money out of it, says the New York Times.

Souda Bey, who has spent some time in the Holy City, and has made extensive trips over the Dead Sea basin, obtained from the Turkish Government a concession for the exploitation of the minerals in the basin. He returned to Constantinople and sold his rights for $350,000.

The members of this syndicate are principally American capitalists.
It is well known that pure bitumen is obtained in the Dead Sea basin, also quantities of sulphur.
Prof. Blanchenhorn's report shows also that copper mines were worked near the south end of the Dead Sea in Byzantine times, both in horizontal galleries and in vertical shafts, and that some marble, porphyry and her fine classes of stone are to be found here, as well as phosphates.

It has also often been stated by American connoisseurs traveling to the Dead Sea that evidences of coal and oil that in America would be unmistakable are apparent here. Salt, of course, abounds, though, strangely enough, this commodity is still imported in large quantities from Smyrna and England.

SMALLEST OF POSTOFFICES

How the Patrons of the Five-Foot Federal Building at Virginia, Cal., Are Accommodated.

Virginia, Cal., boasts of having the smallest postoffice building in the world. It is situated in a lonely spot on the stage road north of San Diego City, and is maintained for the convenience of rich ranch owners in the vicinity. Not more than six or eight people get mail there, but their letters are of sufficient financial importance for a postoffice to be provided for their use. The postmaster's salary does not keep him in cigarettes, but he only has to be on duty on the days when the stage coach is due to pass. The stage driver drops the mail, the few letters from Virginia are handed up and the postmaster proceeds to distribute the letters, post cards and newspapers in lock boxes hung on the outside of the postoffice.
After the scanty mail is distributed the postmaster locks up the little office and goes away.

When a citizen of Virginia mails a letter he does not buy a stamp, but deposits letter and money through the letter drop in the door. If the letter is a heavy one and likely to require more than one stamp he drops a quarter or a half dollar in with it and finds his change in his letter box next mail day. As the postmaster knows the handwriting of ever man, woman and child in the postal district he never puts the change in the wrong box. About once a year, generally near the holidays, a registered letter or package arrives, and then the accommodating postmaster delivers it.
In Virginia registered mail is put in the letter drop, with the fee, and the receipt placed in the proper lock box the same as the change for stamps.
The little postoffice building is constructed of rough slabs of pine, unpainted and windowless, and is only five feet square, and about the height of an ordinary man, who can only stand erect inside by taking off his hat.

RUINS OF ANCIENT BABYLON

Explorers Have Laid Bare Palace of Nebuchadnezzar and Temple That King Built.

Exploration in the ancient city of Babylon is proceeding and the last report of the German Oriental society gives interesting particulars of it. The palace of Nebuchadnezzar is being laid bare in all its vastness and the line of fortification of the heights on which the palace stood is now almost completely traced.

The streets and private dwellings lying round the foot of the hill are being cleared. Among other finds is a small temple, the work of Nebuchadnezzar, beautifully built, in apparently perfect preservation and still showing the black and white color scheme characteristic of the Assyrians.
Operations on the thick stone wall, 30 feet high, connecting Palace hill and the so-called Hill of Amran led to the discovery of a magnificent gate, which Professor Koldewey identifies with the Gate of Urash, often referred to in terms of admiration by old Greek writers. Meanwhile the professor's colleague, Dr. Andraes, is exploring the great temple of the god Assur, in the upper part of the ancient city, and the ruins of Hatra, some 40 miles distant, where valuable materials for the early history and customs of the Beduins are being brought to light.

Where Scars Are Prized.

The natives of some of the islands of the Pacific are always glad to see the doctor on his periodical visits. At Kaiser Wilhelm's harbor the German government has stationed Dr. Heise-gang as medical officer. He is a busy man. Natives by the dozen come to him, not to be treated for illness, but to get the benefit of his professional opinion on how to scar themselves artistically.

The natives are very fond of scars, and nearly all of them are covered with specimens which have resulted from self-inflicted wounds which were kept open by frequent scratching or by the introduction of foreign substances like sand, bamboo, shells and so forth. The excrescence which results from the average vaccination is scratched off at the proper time, and the resulting large scar is very dear to the native.

A young islander whose face and body are a mass of cuts, bruises and soars is considered the catch of the season by the dusky belles.

Snowballing in Summer.

A pretty game was devised by a mother planning for an outdoor birthday party. The little ones were lined up on the lawn and pelted with snowballs made of cotton and covered with white crepe paper napkins tied with white thread, thread and projecting paper ends being clipped off after making. Of course the delighted youngsters scrambled after the white balls.
Later on a contest was arranged, captains being chosen on two sides and ten balls being allotted to each small player.—The Designer.

Women Should Judge.

Six men in Hartford, Conn., formed the jury to decide whether a lady's dress fit properly or not. Naturally, the women say that no man is competent to judge of such things, and that the jury should have been composed of six women. But, according to Mrs. Caroline F. Corbin, the men were doing their "God-given" duty and the jury room is no place for women.

Take Your Choice.
"Don't you think, Dr. Fourtly," said his literary parishioner, "that the larger, fuller intellectual life of the present day, with its freedom from the baseless fears and superstitions that have kept the human soul in bondage through the centuries, has been a potent agency in bringing about the demonstrated and well established increase in the average duration of human life?"
"O, yes, to be sure," said the Rev.
Dr. Fourtly; "and then people take better care of their teeth nowadays than they used to, you know."

Fickle Popularity.
"You started wit... the full condence of your constituents and now you are criticised on every hand."
"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum.
"My experience has been very much like that of a man who good-naturedly consents to umpire a ball game."

Where Courting Is Dangerous.
Four young men have been shot at Vex (Valais) by an irate father to whose daughter they had come to pay court, says the London Express. They were refused admission to the house, and when they tried to force their way in the father took down his gun and fired. Two of them were slightly wounded and the other two seriously. The father was arrested.
The encounter and its almost tragic ending were due to ancient custom which prevails in the villages of the ganton of Valais and in the Alpine hamlets of the German cantons. After a girl has reached the age of eighteen her parents are not surprised to receive the visit of several young men after the day's work to ask to see their daughter and pass a pleasant evening in the family circle. The visit is looked on as a compliment, and as the young men bring with them wines and food they are generally welcomed by the parents. The custom, which is known as Vellée, results in introductions and often in marriages.

Who Was There That You Knew?
In the shadowy ranks of those who marched to defeat or death or victory fifty years ago in the mighty conflict that convulsed this great nation, is there father or grandfather or uncle of yours? Would you like to see a photograph of him in that long ago day of his youth—a photograph that he never knew was taken? Perhaps we can show you one; and in any case, we can tell you a story, stranger than any detective fiction, of 3,500 priceless photographs that were lost and are found again.

3,500 Long Buried Photographs of the Civil War
THEY were taken by the greatest photographer in the United States of that day; they were bought by the United States Government for $30,000; they were buried in the War Department for 50 years—they are buried there still. But a duplicate set was kept by the photographer—who died poor and broken down; that duplicate set was knocked from pillar to post for nearly 50 years, until it was discovered by a New England collector. J. Pierpont Morgan tried to secure the collection—Ex-President Garfield and General Benjamin F. Butler said it was worth $150,000—yet with the help of the Review or Reviews, the entire collection has been gathered into 10 great volumes and is placed within your reach at less than the value of one of the photographs.
It is the one accurate, impartial history of the Civil War for the camera cannot lie. It tells the story of the War you never heard before. Taken under protection of the Secret Service, these photographs bring to light thousands of little-known phases of the war; they penetrate to strange places and record strange things.
